

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION PROGRAM

The following message to ECEP parents on January 21st, 2022:

Dear ECEP families,

In an effort to address the current surge, ECEP recommends that all families engage in weekly surveillance testing for children 2 year or older. We are pleased to inform you that UC Berkeley has issued our program an allotment of at-home antigen tests. ECEP staff will distribute one Flowflex Antigen Home Test per child for the next few Fridays. We request that families test on Sunday night or Monday morning. ECEP will not require verification of results prior to returning on Mondays, however if your child tests positive you are expected to adhere to existing COVID protocols and may include your child taking an additional PCR test or isolation period before returning to care.

We appreciate your diligence and participation in recommended at-home testing during the current COVID surge. Together we are making a commitment to the health and safety of our community.

Sincerely,
